

PRETTY MEMORY OF YEARS GONE BY

Beautiful Incident in the Charming Hospitality of Montague Thompson.

WHAT SHOULD A MAIDEN BE

A Poem That Was Drawn for By a Trio of Fair Maidens.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PROVIDENCE FORGE, June 2.—In the little town of Williamsburg there stands to-day the old home of Mr. Montague Thompson. The dear old gentleman has long since passed over the river, but there still lingers in the memory of many delightful hours of entertainment spent beneath his hospitable roof. The grounds about this ancient mansion seemed the favorite haunt of nature, for nowhere did the violets bloom sweeter or the roses more beautiful. Being a bachelor, Mr. Thompson was not expected to entertain constantly, but when occasionally his doors were thrown open those receiving invitations counted themselves particularly fortunate.

On one occasion among the guests enjoying Mr. Thompson's hospitality were three young cousins of the old bachelor. Colonel Ewell, who at the time was president of William and Mary College and a very particular friend of Mr. Thompson, sent the little poem I enclose with instructions that Mr. Thompson give it to the young lady he might designate among those visiting him with proper attention to the heading.

Mr. Thompson, modest and delicate of feeling as he always was and not wishing to be partial, urged that it be drawn for. The fortunate one of the trio, who is now a matron with a young daughter just budding into womanhood, has kept the poem as a souvenir of the occasion, and values it highly.

"DETUR PULCHERRIMAE"
(Let it be given to the most beautiful.)

SIMPLEX MUNDITIS; OR, WHAT SHOULD A MAIDEN BE?

"To us who in the present are hear so much about the higher education of woman, it cannot be uninteresting to find that the two most popular poets of the time are at one on the question of Woman's sphere—of Woman's place in the drama of life.

Take the following lines from Tennyson's Princess:

Man for his field, and woman for the hearth;
Man for the sword, and for the needle she;
Man for the field, and the woman for the heart;
Man to command, and woman to obey;
All else confusion;

with these lines from Longfellow's Spanish Student:

"What I most prize in woman
Is her affections, not her intellect;
The intellect is finite; but the affections
Are infinite and cannot be exhausted."

SIMPLEX MUNDITIS
(or, What Should a Maiden Be?)

What should a maiden be? Pure as the rill,
Ere it has left its first home in the hill;
Thinking no evil, suspecting no guile,
Cherishing nought that can harm or defile.

What should a maiden be? Honest and true,
Giving to God and to neighbor their due;
Modest and merciful, simple and neat,
Clad in the white robe of innocence sweet.

What should a maiden be? She should be loath
Lightly to give or receive loving troth;
But when her faith is once pledged, till death
Leave her, her love should be stronger than death.

What should a maiden be? Merry,
What should her dress be? Not gaudy

where'er
Merriment comes with a natural air;
But let not mirth be an every-day guest,
Quietness sits on a maiden the best.

Like a fair lily, sequestered and meek,
She should be sought for, not others should seek;
But, when the wild winds of trouble arise,
She should be calm and courageous and wise.

What should her words be? Her words should be Honest and genuine, tender and true;
Words that overflow from a pure heart
within, guiltless of folly, untainted by sin.

What should her dress be? Not gaudy

And vain,
But unaffectedly pretty and plain;
She should remember these few simple words—
"Fine feathers flourish on foolish young birds."

Where should a maiden be? Home is the place
Which a fair maid is most fitted to grace;
There should she turn, like a bird to the nest,
There should a maiden be, blessing and blest.

There should she dwell as the handmaid of God,
And if He bid her "pass under the rod,"
Let her each murmur repining suppress,
Knowing He chasteneth that He may bless.

But if earth's blessings each day He renew,
Let her give glory where glory is due;
Deem every blessing a gift from above,
Given and designed for a purpose of love.

What will her future be? If she become
Matron and mother, may God bless her home!
God to the matron all blessings will give,
If a God's maiden the young maiden live.

What will her future be? If she should die,
Lightly the earth on her ashes will lie;
Softly her body will sleep 'neath the sod,
While her pure spirit is safe with her God.

"ARCULUS."

A BIG CLAIM.

Seeking to Secure Alleged Grant of Many Thousand Acres.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
OSBORN'S GAP, VA., June 2.—A man, calling himself Van Wirt, of New York, is claiming an area of 12,000 acres of land in this section, most of it in Dickenson county, under an old patent. It seems that at various times within the past fifteen years parties have claimed to own in this section under a patent said to have been granted to a Frenchman by the name of Beaufort, sometime in 1700, but up to this time no suits of ejectment have been instituted in the courts. Van Wirt says he will make the people of the town of Clintwood release deeds to their property, as he finds them civil and courteous.

He is trying to employ legal talent to assist him in his efforts to these lands, but so far it appears that no attorney cares to become involved in this matter. The affair is not creating any noticeable stir, and is regarded somewhat as the work of a crank.

Caplases' profits have been issued from the clerk's office of Dickenson county for parties against whom fines have been adjudged during the past three or four years, and the officers are having a lively time executing them. There is about $1,000 in these outstanding fines, and at the last term of Judge Skeen's court an order was made for the arrest and incarceration of the parties against whom fines are assessed, in default of payment.

DREWRY—JONES.

Well-Known Young People Married Yesterday in Maryland.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CATONVILLE, MD., June 2.—St. Timothy's Protestant Episcopal Church was the scene of a pretty wedding at noon today, when Miss Mary Tasker James, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. James, of Tower Hill, Catonsville, was united in marriage to Dr. Cooper R. Drewry, son of the late Dr. Samuel D. Drewry, a Confederate veteran, who died recently at his home at Mineola, Chesterfield county, Va., and a nephew of General James Macgill, of Pulaski, Va., brigadier-general of the Second Brigade, Virginia Division, United Confederate Veterans.

Rev. Percy Foster Hall, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of invited guests. The church was tastefully decorated with palms, vines and white and pink flowers.

The bride was charming in a stately imported gown of embroidered muslin, and Valenciennes lace, with a full bridal veil concealing the plain folds of the train. A diamond collar, pearl collar, presented by her cousin, Mr. D. Willis James, of New York, and carried lilacs of the valley. The maid of honor was Miss Beverly James, cousin of the bride. She wore a gown of embroidered muslin, over pink, with touches of pink, and wore a lorgnette hat trimmed with pink roses, and carried a bouquet of Bridesmaid roses and lilacs of the valley. Mr. Charles M. Drewry, of Chesterfield county, Va., brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Dr. William D. Scotch, of Baltimore; Mr. Henry James, of New York, cousin of the bride; Mr. A. H. Drewry, of Richmond, Va., cousin of groom; Mr. Joseph F. Venable, of Petersburg, Va.; Mr. B. Frank DeFord, of Baltimore, and Mr. William G. Taylor, of Richmond.

The bride was given away by her father. The wedding march was played by Mr. Miles Farrow, organist of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church, Baltimore.

The wedding breakfast followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, after which they left on a wedding journey. They will reside at Catonsville, a suburb of Baltimore.

OCEAN VIEW

"The Ocean View Girl" is the jolliest in the World. Summering as she does at the most pleasantly located spot on the Atlantic Coast, she has every accessory for passing the time pleasantly; a splendid Hotel, with the best cuisine, and under the management of the most up-to-date hotel people in the country; fine surf bathing, the model summer theatre of America, conducted by the Wells Amusement Company, Band Concerts daily and a splendid dancing pavilion, all add to her enjoyment.

For her little brothers and sisters there is a Circle Swing, Tour of the World, Laughing Gallery, an Aquarium, Shooting Gallery, Scenic Railway, Merry-Go-Round, Photograph Gallery, Penny Arcade, in fact it is the "Atlantic City of the South."

Located as it is upon the shores of Chesapeake Bay, contiguous to historic Hampton Roads, it is an ideal headquarters for the sightseer. Ocean View has an unexcelled electric railway and ferry service connecting with the growing Metropolitan cities of Norfolk, Portsmouth, Hampton and Newport News. The grounds of the Jamestown Exposition Company lie almost at its doors; ducement which should cause every disciple of Isaak Walton to include Ocean View in his summer itinerary. Just off the shores of Ocean View are located the most famous fishing banks in the country, where the hogfish and spot, the flounder, trout, perch, sheep-head, croaker and many other varieties are found in abundance. Further out in the deeper water the blue-fish, dogfish, sea trout and other game fish abound.

The hotel itself has been recently refitted throughout, every room opening upon spacious verandas, which aggregate in length about 25,000 feet.

For health, recreation and good solid comfort the seashore is the place, and Ocean View is pre-eminently in the front ranks as the leading seaside resort of the South.

Grandfather's Cure for Constipation

Intestines with a costly waste of Digestive Juices, as Salts, Castor Oil, Calomel, Jalap, or Aperient Waters, always do.

No—Cascarets strengthen and stimulate the Bowel Muscles instead.

These are the Muscles that line the Food passages and that tighten up when Food touches them, thus driving that Food on to its finish.

They are the Muscles that turn Food into Strength through Nutrition.

Well,—a Cascaret acts on your Bowel Muscles as if you had just Sawn a cord of wood, or walked ten miles.

That's why Cascarets are safe to take continuously in health; and out of health. Because they move the Food Naturally, digesting it without waste of tomorrow's Gastric Juice.

They thus work all the Nutrition out of it before it decays. The thin, flat, Ten Cent box is made to fit your Vest Pocket, or "My Lady's" Purse.

Carry it constantly with you and take a Cascaret whenever you suspect you need one.

Thus you will ward off Appendicitis, Constipation, Indigestion, — and other things besides.

Druggists—10 Cents a Box. Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC."

IT FREE TO OUR FRIENDS!
We want to send to our friends a beautiful Free-Design, GOLD-PLATED BOMBON BOX, hand-embossed in color. It is a luxury for the creating table. Ten cents in stamps is asked as a measure of good faith and to cover cost of Cascarets, with which this Candy Box is loaded.
Send to-day, enclosing this paper. Address: Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago or New York.

Cascarets are the only means to exercise the Bowel Muscles, without work. They don't Purge, Grip, nor "upset your Stomach," because they don't act like Cathartics. They don't flush out your Bowels and
